Welcome to Light Up A Life

We at AuthoraCare Collective are grateful for the opportunity to gather together this holiday season. Once again, we are holding this year's service virtually to ensure the safety of everyone participating. The AuthoraCare team has worked hard to put together a virtual program that captures the spirit and peacefulness of our in-person service. We are hopeful that we will be able to return to an in-person event next year.

We encourage you to take the time to drive by our Hospice Trees of Remembrance at the Kontoor Brands building (400 North Elm St.) in Greensboro and the AuthoraCare Collective Campus (918 Chapel Hill Rd.) in Burlington. These beautiful trees are lit with lights which symbolically represent lives of those who have been honored or remembered this season.

You can follow along with our service using this program, although the text for the responsive readings will also be shared on-screen so you do not need to have this program handy to participate.

If you so choose, we recommend that you have a regular or electric candle ready to participate in our candle lighting ceremony.

After the service, a recording of the entire event will be posted at authoracare.org/light. You can also make donations to Light Up A Life through the end of the year if you have not yet had the opportunity to honor or remember someone special.

Everyone here at AuthoraCare wishes you peace and comfort this holiday season.

Prelude Music:

Musical Selections from Light Up A Life 2019

Featuring Performances by:

The First Lutheran Church Handbell Choir

Melissa Burris (Piano)

Jessica Mashburn (Voice)

Words of Welcome:

Kristen Yntema

President and CEO, AuthoraCare Collective

Lighting the Community Candle:

“Let There Be Light”

Eddie Gant

Chair, AuthoraCare Foundation Board

Let there be light. We light this candle for our community ... especially those who have experienced physical, emotional, and financial challenges this past year. We also light this candle in memory of those loved ones no longer with us, those lifelong companions not beside us today nor waiting for us at home. We remember the importance of their lives in ours, and we are keenly aware of their absence. May this light illuminate — even in a small way — a little of the darkness we feel.

Musical Selection:

Piano Sonata No. 18 in B-Flat Major, K 570 II Adagio

Written By W.A. Mozart

Performed by Ruth Heyd, Piano

Special Reading: "My Beautiful Broken Shell"

Written by Carol H. Adams

Read by Sandra Gant-Satterfield

Long-Term Care Social Worker, AuthoraCare Collective

Dawn has broken on a beautiful day here at the ocean.
I've come to refresh my weary spirit and to refuel my tired soul.

I'm so grateful for the peace and the calm of the seashore, where time stands still and un-rushed,
where I can see and feel the beauty all around me.

This is my first morning at the ocean, and as I walk to the beach, feeling the rich, warm sand beneath my feet, I decide to collect a few shells.

It is low tide and I watch, mesmerized, as the ocean rises slowly, curls and then spills its white-laced foam onto the shore.

I walk by a broken scallop shell and leave it to search for more perfect ones.

But then I stop ... go back ...and pick up the broken shell.
I realize that this shell is me with my broken heart.

This shell is people who are hurting ... people who have lost loved ones ...
people who are frightened or alone ... people with unfulfilled dreams.

This shell has had to fight so hard to keep from being totally crushed by the pounding of the surf ... just as I've had to do.

Yet this shell is still out on the beautiful sandy shore ... just as I am.

I am thankful that I haven't been completely crushed by the heaviness of my heart ... by the pounding of the surf.

If our world were only filled with perfect shells,
we would miss some of life's most important lessons along the way.
We would never learn from adversity ... from pain ... from sorrow.

I am thankful for all that I have learned from my brokenness ...
for the courage it takes to live with my pain ...
and for the strength it takes to remain on the shore.

Broken shells teach us not to look at our imperfections ...
but to look at the beauty ... the great beauty ... of what is still left.

Responsive Reading:

“When We Remember Them”

Written by Rabbi Simcha Kling

Led by Dee Curry

Community Liaison, AuthoraCare Collective

Responsive Reading

(Please read aloud the lines shown in bold)

At the rising of the sun and at its going down, we remember them.

At the blowing of the wind and the chill of winter, we remember them.

At the opening of the buds and the rebirth of spring, we remember them.

At the blueness of the skies and the warmth of summer, we remember them.

At the rustling of the leaves and the beauty of autumn, we remember them.

During the holiday occasions and at the year’s end, we remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live; for they are now a part of us, as we remember them.

When we are weary and in need of strength, we remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart, we remember them.

When we have joy we crave to share, we remember them.

When we have decisions that are difficult to make, we remember them.

When we have achievements that are based on theirs, we remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live; for they are now a part of us, as we remember them.

Words of Reflection:

The Reverend Doctor Darryl Aaron

Senior Minister, Providence Baptist Church

Lighting of Candles:

John Connor

Chaplain, AuthoraCare Collective

“Let There Be Light”

Let there be light! We light these candles in the hope that these small flames will bring yet more light into our hearts to replace the darkness, little by little. In the midst of our sorrow, we affirm our hopes ... sometimes faint, but persistent — that life is good, radiant with warmth, beauty and love. With the lighting of our single candle, we affirm life.

Musical Selection:

“This Candle”
