Why: Founded by Hospice and Palliative Care of Greensboro (HPCG), Kids Path is a distinctive program that supports children coping with serious illness and loss. Through Kids Path’s grief services, licensed counselors provide individual counseling, support groups and workshops for children aged 4-18 who are coping with the death or serious illness of a loved one. And through its pediatric services, Kids Path medical staff provide hospice care for seriously ill children, CAP/C case management, perinatal hospice services, and other medical resources.

Thanks to a generous grant from the Duke Endowment, the model has been expanded to form a consortium of licensed Kids Path providers, which currently includes 11 Kids Path providers in North Carolina, South Carolina and West Virginia. Kids Path is vulnerable, as it relies on public support for more than 70 percent of its operating budget.
